HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 31.—The 1931 Road Bill, said to be the most comprehensive piece of road legislation ever presented in any legislative body in the history of the world is now in the House Committee on Highways. Presented on Monday evening by Representative Charles Bidelsbacher of Lycoming County, it calls for the taking over by the state of 20,000 miles of township road, now maintained by the townships of the state.

Get Lion's Share
Lawrence County gets 190 miles under the new bill which is a trifle more than its maximum share. Under the apportionment no county was to have more than 27 1/2 nor less than 25 per cent of its dirt roads taken over. The 190 miles in Lawrence County is about 28 per cent of all the dirt roads in the county.

AKRON, Mar. 31.—Lieutenant Charles E. Bauch of the United States navy, a survivor of the ill-fated dirigible, the Shenandoah, died at St. Thomas hospital here today from injuries received in an automobile crash last night.

Lieutenant T. W. G. Settle, who was riding with Bauch in the latter's automobile when the accident occurred, was reported recovering from slight body injuries.

Lieutenant Bauch, who recently was assigned here from New Jersey as the first of a crew to operate the new navy dirigible, the Akron, had just attended a banquet in his honor a short time before the accident.

Enroute to his apartment, his machine was forced into a concrete pier of an iron bridge on the Manchester road, near the outskirts of the city.

Both officers were taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Bauch died from a fractured skull.

The body will be taken to Washington, D. C., tomorrow for burial.

Mr. P. Pettergind worked and scraped and saved his money and at last paid down on a little house. And happy indeed were Mr. and Mrs. Pettergind and all the little Petterginds in their new home. All winter they planned what to do with it in summer and all summer they worked in the yard and on the garden, making it look more homey.

One day Mr. Pettergind learned that a building in the vicinity of his home had been converted into a foundry. The foundry was so noisy, and produced such ill-smelling odors, that it made his little home unfit for habitation. He sued.

At the trial the company argued that if Mr. Pettergind was thus affected by the foundry, so must be all the other houses in the neighborhood. None of them had as yet complained.

MAINTENANCE OF LOCAL HIGHWAYS PLAN CONSIDERED

ing on and on Monday night the completed draft was presented, a voluminous bill.

The bill calls for the maintenance of the roads, not for the immediate paving. As time goes on and money becomes available, the roads will be covered with an all weather surface, but there will be a small part of them ever concreted it is expected. The theory now is that the important roads of the state are concreted, the time is here now to furnish a cheaper type of road surface and thus make the money go farther.

The bill will not be in committee long. Its passage is fore ordained for every legislator has a piece in the bill. Hence there will be no votes against it, unless there should be a few from Philadelphia the only county in the state that has no roads, all of theirs being city streets.

ASSEMBLY HOLDS HEATED SESSION MONDAY EVENING

day. Two other Philadelphians sponsoring such legalizing measures were Rep. Argentieri, to permit guards and watchmen to work Sundays and Rep. Denning, legalizing operation of elevators.

Sowers' Motion Defeated.

Second attempt to discharge a committee from consideration of a bill failed when administration forces in the house defeated a motion by Rep. Sowers, Philadelphia, to discharge the highway commission from his bill to reduce the drivers' license fee from $2 to $1. Vote on the motion was 69 to 131, and was preceded by one of the greatest flows of oratory this session, for and against the motion.

Sowers charged the reduction was proposed by the governor in his campaign, but that "some invisible power" is now keeping it back.

Acting on measures on final passage, the house passed more than half a dozen measures, most of them of minor nature. Included in the lot were one to extend the time in which state employees may elect to join the employees retirement fund, the way bill changing the open season on ruffed grouse, the Evans bill providing for issuance of non-resident alien hunters' licenses and courtesy licenses, and a bill adding $20 monthly to the salaries of capital policemen.

Largest bill ever introduced in the assembly, covering 1137 pages, the administration bill to take over 20,000 miles of township roads for state development was presented by Rep. Charles Bidelspacher, Lycoming. The measure was presented by agreement, and covers 4713 routes proposed for conversion to the state system.

Action Withheld.

The measure, sponsors said, follows closely the roads mapped out for state maintenance some weeks ago by the highway department, and it was understood little action will be taken on it until copies of the bill have been supplied to all members of the assembly.

If a plan of action sponsored by administration leaders is followed the bill will be passed without amendment by the house and any changes will be made in the senate, which would put the matter of final shape of the measure up to a conference committee.

Aside from road descriptions, the rest of the bill is short, providing that no road shall be taken over if a contract has been let by township authorities for its improvement or if a public service commission order to that end has been issued. The state also will not take over any county or township bridges under the terms of the bill.

Sixteen Bills Passed.

Passing 16 of the 29 final reading bills on its calendar, the senate postponed until today final action on two bills which may be productive of floor fights.

One measure sponsored by the senate probe committee will come up for final action today. The bill, by Senator McClure, Delaware, will give the public service commission full authority to regulate the issuance of securities by public utility companies. While the commission always has had authority to regulate increases of capitalization by a utility its power over the original issue always has been a debated question and one which that body deemed loath to test. The McClure bill, unless weakened by amendments, will give the commission adequate power.

Salus Bill Up.

The senate also is expected to vote finally on the Salus bill which would make 48 hours the maximum a minor would be permitted to work in one week. The present daily limit on nine hours would be cut to eight and a 45-minute rest period would have to be provided at the noon hour.

The Salus bill, however, may share the fate of a companion measure aimed to reduce to 44 hours the weekly limit for female employees. That one, sponsored by Senator James J. Coyne, Allegheny, was sent back to the judiciary general committee at the session last night for "the purpose of amendment."

It was opposed not only by large employers of labor but also by women employees who feared the reduction in weekly hours would also mean a cut in wages.

SHOWDOWN NEARS
ON CHARGES MADE AGAINST WALKER

to reports in Tammany circles, for the arrival of the wise-cracking "Jimmy" is to be the signal for a vigorous counter-offensive in a hard-hitting "vindication campaign."

The Rev. Holmes' reaction to the reception is: "Well, and good, let the reception be held—it will only be a repetition of itself on a ridiculous and petty scale."

"I remember another little man who, over a hundred years ago, came back to his city after an absence taken for his political and personal health," declared the Rev. Holmes. "He came back unexpectedly and all the town went mad. His courtiers hailed him as a conqueror, his political underlings yelled with excitement and delight. Crowds upon the streets shouted with acclaim. This was Napoleon, a great little man, coming back to Paris in 1814."

"Now Mayor Walker, a small little man, is coming back to New York. We shall see the same wild scenes the same delight of the tugs and politicians who flourished under the old regime. And, let me prophesy, we shall see the same outcome in the end. One hundred days after Napoleon's triumphant entry into Paris, he stood on the field of Waterloo, overwhelmed with defeat and fleeing into that exile from which he was fated never to return."

"I give Mayor Walker 100 days in which to enjoy his return to New York City. One hundred days—and then he will have gone to his Waterloo. He will be rid of him, gladly this city will be rid of him, and then it can start on the reorganization of life in terms of honor, truth and high-minded public service."

The Rev. Holmes, who, with Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, filed charges against Walker in behalf of the city affairs committee with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt recently, said the mayor has received directions by long-distance telephone to "wise-crack" and stop wearing purple pajamas in public. The result, he said, is that "our noble mayor is now a changed and transformed man."

Mayor Walker, however, has asserted in California that his health is fully recovered and that he is fit and eager for the battle with his vast army of critics. He is coming home with "fire in his eye."

A big shake-up in various branches of the Walker administration is taking place meanwhile, the police department has been ousting vice "cops" involved in charges of "framing" women. An ex-official of the building department has been arrested on the charge of accepting a $1,500 bribe to speed up work on a penthouse. Yesterday a wholesale transfer of 300 tenement house inspectors was ordered.

Today it was predicted that a ruthless shake-up of every inspection staff in the city government is imminent. The health and fire inspection staffs are said to be the next slated for reorganization.

Walker's critics contend that this activity is "a confession of guilt on the part of Tammany" and designed to mitigate the forthcoming activities of the legislative inquiry which will begin about May 1.

If every place in the world made its own local weather and used it at the moment, the south pole would be the hottest place on earth on the 22nd of December—the longest day in the southern hemisphere—when the sun shines 23½ degrees over the south pole. Anywhere within the Antarctic circle one could behold the midnight sun and there would be no cessation of the direct solar rays upon the south pole from September 23 to the time when the sun would be highest and therefore its heat rays the most direct and penetrating. Also the sun is at its nearest approach to the earth that day.

TWO COMPLAINTS ARE ENTERED AT PUBLIC HEARING

and those of the New Castle and Lowellville electric line.

Testimony Introduced.

The protestants were successful in introducing into the record of today's hearing, testimony taken in New Castle last February 27 at a hearing before the Public Service Commission. Protestants' counsel maintained that the four crossings were in close proximity, that only those of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie were equipped with flasher signals; and that the location was a short distance from the foot of a hill on both sides of the rails.

Robb maintained that ordinary precautions would provide for safe crossing there and that passengers must traverse the seven track lines whether they drive by automobile, use Small's service, or walk to the New Castle and Lowellville stop at that point.

Resulted In Loss.

Don James, general traffic manager for the electric line, told the commissioner that operations from New Castle to the Ohio state line in 1930 had resulted in a loss of more than $7,000 to the company. He charged that the line could not maintain its operations should the commission grant Robb his application. On cross-examination James testified that the loss from Ohio operations of the company were even greater over the two-year period.

An alleged violation of the qualification of Robb's commission certificate occurring in Poland, O., several years ago, was cited by James as a reason why the applicant's stipulations not to accept passengers at Edensburg and Lowellville, which the electric line serves, were not satisfactory.

Robb testified that the violations were not his acts but those of Mantz Farrell, former partner, James maintained, however, that Robb had admitted the Poland violation while testifying in a Public Service Commission hearing at Columbus, O.

Walter W. Gilmore, postmaster at Hillsville, and Joseph H. Eakin, justice of the peace and school director there, both testified as to the need for the additional service and as to Robb's reputation and character.

Seismograph Is Shaken By Quake

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Mar. 31.—Travelling under the earth's surface over the 2200 miles from Nicaragua, the first wave of the earth quake reached the delicate Seismograph instrument at Harvard observatory today in exactly 6½ minutes after the shock occurred in the country to the south.

Examination of the Seismograph records showed that the waves of the earthquake were still being recorded after noon. The record began at 11:10 a. m. and the maximum of the disturbance was reached at 11:25 a. m. according to the record here. Although the quake was reported to have done damage near its center, it was of only moderate intensity, as recorded at Harvard.

At Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande from Laredo, Texas, one of the largest military reservations in Mexico is being built.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM PRESENTED MONDAY

Members of The Music Club were again delightfully entertained by the program presented Monday evening in the Highland United Presbyterian church, with Mrs. H. H. Rosenthal as hostess.

The evening's entertainment opened with the reading of an especially prepared paper by Mrs. J. Norman Martin, who blended with it much witicism. Miss Katherine Lewis played the Prelude Choral and Fugue of Bach, revealing excellent effects. Mrs. Alfred Melior showed herself a well schooled musician pleasing her listeners with the lovely quality of her voice.

Frances Di Sanctis pleased his audience with a group of songs. His first two numbers were composed by Garth Edmundson, a local organist who is gaining favorable recognition as organist composer.

Miss Violet Shuler gave a performance demonstrating exceptional talent. The different touch of Miss Charlotte Andrews was an inspiration to those assembled there, when she played her selections.

A social period followed with Miss Ruth Drescher as chairlady, assisted by Mrs. William Caldwell and Mrs. D. R. Harris, chronicled the close of a most delightful evening.

APRIL FOOL

TOMORROW is the first day of April. Lookout for the joke-smith, and keep your wits about you or you may be called an "April Fool."

Who originated All Fools Day, or why is not known. Its birth is so far back that if its origin ever was known time has forgotten it, and no records have been found to indicate its beginning. Controversies have raged over the question, and most eminent literary geniuses have not considered it beneath their dignity to enter into printed disputes.

The fellow who is made a fool of seldom relishes the joke that has been played on him. Children yet indulge the conceit of having their elders look at the rent in coat or dress. But adults let the day go by without intriguing friends in more than little escapades.

The day of the "big fool" seems to have passed, and all to the good. Custom and education have had their effect. Not that jokes are less popular, but there are not as many so-called jokes as there were once upon a time. That is there are not as many among the grown-ups; the young people do not mind placing their comrades in embarrassing situations any less than ever.

Oh, well, if April Fools Day is not as provocative of jokes as it once was, life is not the less endurable. Only do not disappoint the little one who tells you that your coat is on fire or the dog has eaten your slippers. And for goodness sake do not take the tab "kick me" off the back of your coat until at least one person has "obeyed that impulse."

ROADS AND R. F. D.

When the rural inspector for Uncle Sam's postal service makes his rounds he always tries to eliminate a little mud from the path of the faithful mail carrier. If the ribbons of concrete which have been laid in many sections of Lawrence county during the past 10 years have helped the farmer get his produce to market, be it green goods, grain, wool, timber, or milk, the benefit has also been felt by patrons of centralized schools, and by those who receive their mail in a roadside box—which means practically all the farmers.

"What is the use of all this good road business?" one farmer was heard to remark. "People get places quicker, but they don't have much to do with their time after they get there. It doesn't take so much time to get our work done there will be a lot more loafing." This view, a rare one be it said, is similar to that of a merchant who said, "If people don't stop making a run on my drygoods I'm liable to be all sold out before Christmas."

Good roads are not to be thought of in terms of pleasure seekers, rum runners, and the kind of motorist who is eternally on errands of little importance. It is getting to be that if a farmer happens to be marooned on a mud road he is in a bad way to get his mail delivered within easy walking distance of the house. There is nearly enough all-weather road in our township now to provide routes for the rural mail carriers, and the inspector can be counted on the advise keeping the service out of the mud.

The farmers who live on a mud road, or even upon a poorly kept-up road, should learn what the prospects are for early improvement. The township supervisors should have the inside track on what the state is going to do for a given section of rural road. The farmer owes it to himself to get in touch with the officials and legislators, so that he may know what is likely to happen to the roads that affect him.

With every man wanting an improved road past his own property, not everybody can be satisfied. However, the good roads seem to come to those who "holler" the loudest, the longest, and with the greatest show of reason, common sense and logical procedure.

Rural mail carriers do not have long hours when roads are good, but to keep up a car for travel in the mud is too great a hardship to expect of them. Rural roads plans should consider the mail service, as well as the centralized schools, and the farmers markets.

DON'T FOLLOW MOON RULE

Some gardeners formerly believed in planting Irish potatoes and certain other garden crops in the proper phase of the moon. No one seems to know how the old moon theory originated, but it seems to date back to prehistoric times and probably was based upon the method of keeping time by moons rather than by months. There is no definite experimental data to show that the moon has experienced gardeners prefer to plant any influence one way or the other, and their potatoes at a time when the weather and soil conditions are right rather than according to the phase of the moon. Experience has shown that the point of most importance is to have the land in first-class condition for planting, then proceed to plant as soon as weather conditions permit.

Oh, well, eventually the crooning craze will pass and we'll get some other annoyance.

The Stock Exchange annex will rise to their height of 400 feet. Well, at least something is going up.

The proposed electric telescope will magnify a star a million times. That's equal to the best Hollywood has done.

Penologist says our prisons breed crime. There seems to be no place where we can look with confidence for morality.

Some day, maybe, Pennsylvania will make a come-back as a state for good bass fishing. It still has its quota of suckers.

With the no-work-no-eat system becoming effective some Russians may have less time to devote to denunciation of capitalism.

The blue potato has arrived in Paris. Now if they'll bring on the red celery and the white beets the American colony can eat up the Star Spangled Banner.

A Kentucky farmer has written to President Hoover asking the loan of $100. Doesn't the man know that the last congress didn't leave that much money in Washington?

We simply can't believe that story of the motorist who claims he drove 30 miles before discovering his wife had fallen from the back seat. The idea of a married man driving 30 miles without instructions is simply out of the question. That chap will have to think up a better one to convince us.

The Chiseler
Undermines People Around Him
Will Not Let Us Be Happy

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Do you know what a Chiseler is? If you don't, if you've never met one, I hope you never do.

He's a man—or a woman—who thinks the quickest way to get ahead is by pulling down somebody else.

He comes into your office, into your organization, and gets a job. He has an easy smile, a smooth tongue, an ingratiating personality. Frequently he has ability and he wins his way quickly. Is he satisfied with that? He is not—he starts Chiseling!

At first you don't know he's Chiseling, undermining the people around him. But when the atmosphere of the place changes and becomes suspicious, quarrelsome and nagging, you know he's at work. He says: "Jones is a fine fellow, but—" He whispers: "Miss Brown does her work very capably, except for one thing. Have you noticed—" He finds that one weak spot in everybody and points it out in a gentle, half-apologizing way. He kills confidence and cuts down his fellows, and he hopes that when they go out, he'll go in. He climbs over the dead and the dying to a better job.

The Chiseler isn't as rare as you think. He's an unhappy fellow with a mean streak in him. Or he's just stupid and doesn't know any better. Did you ever watch a strong young cuckoo bird pushing and lifting and finally showing a young robin out of his nest to die on the ground below? It's not a pretty sight, I'll tell you, but it's much pleasanter and far more understandable than the sight of a Chiseler at work, chiseling and clawing to get himself a better job. A Chiseler who is as able as any other man, but prefers to use his "reason" instead of his Honest Ability.

And the pity of it is that many a Chiseler doesn't even know what he is doing. After he gets on top he makes fine speeches about Hard Work and Loyalty and Integrity and doesn't suspect what a fake he is. I don't exactly know what can be done about the Chiselers who do their dirty work outside of us, but I do know that most of us carry a Chiseler within us who is far more subtle and poisonous.

That Chiseler will not let us be happy. He's ever at the elbow of our self-confidence, telling us how small we are, how certain we are to fail. If we feel happy, he reminds us of some miserable thing we did long, long ago. If we think we have done a good job once, he suggests how much better it could have been done. He gives us no peace, he will not let us alone. He chisels the heart out of us and kills all our joy in living.

All Chiselers are contemptible, but this Chiseler that you make for yourself is the lowest of all the vicious breed.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A WISH

I don't want to go back to the joys of old which are dead and past gone.
I am grateful for all of my yesterday, but I want to keep moving on.
Though I once was young and once was strong, those gifts have flown away.
And I ask the Lord for the sort of grace that I ought to have today.

I want to be fit for the friends of now, as I was for my playmates then.
I want to be gay as a man should be and stand as man with men.
It is vain to sigh for the vanished joys which never again can be.

So I ask for the wisdom and faith and grace which today expects from me.

I don't want to sit with a doleful face, regretting the pleasure lost.

I don't want to wither and hang my head like a dahlia nipped by frost.

I want to go on with my head up high, and a cheery word to say.

And be as brave and as blithe of heart as I ought to be today.

Bible Thought For Today

NOT MEAT AND DRINK—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—Rom. 14:17.

PRAYER—May we not be confused, our heavenly Father, in seeking life's best gifts.

Somebody down in Maryland is very optimistic. A bill was introduced in the state legislature providing for the creation of a commission to manufacture and sell intoxicating beverages.

It is claimed that the American women spent $150 apiece each year for beauty aids. And we wonder why in some instances.

FIRST STEP—An employer who believed in supporting all efforts to introduce a new spirit into industry had called his men together to place before them his plans for bettering working conditions.

"Now whenever I enter the workshop," he said, "I want to see every man cheerfully performing his task and therefore I invite you to place in this box any suggestions as to how that can be brought about."

A few days later he opened the box and took out a slip of paper on which was written: "Take the rubber heels off your shoes."

Panama is planning its first issue of dollar coins. Uncle Sam might sell them his supply of the old cartwheels.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The rich and benevolent lady came one day to bring charity and brightness into the home of a less fortunate widow. She began her visit with a long series of personal questions, and the widow finally interrupted her.

"This work is new to you, isn't it, ma'am?" asked the widow.

The benevolent one admitted that it was.

"Then," returned the widow, "I'll tell you the proper procedure. You sit down in this chair, read a chapter out of the Bible, give me a couple of dollars and leave."

The scene is a dress rehearsal of "Noah's Ark." Hundreds of people and animals are running about. But above all the confusion can be heard the shrieks of the electrician: "What lights shall I use? What lights shall I use? And the heavens open and a voice comes to him, 'The flood lights, you sap.'"

HAPPY DAYS

"What is your son going to be?" "He is such an idealist. He will only follow a profession that will benefit his fellowmen, help them and comfort them."

"Why not make him a postman for registered letters?"

No, Josephine, a kickoff in a football game is not another student suicide.

Someone down in Maryland is very optimistic. A bill was introduced in the state legislature providing for the creation of a commission to manufacture and sell intoxicating beverages.

It is claimed that the American women spent $150 apiece each year for beauty aids. And we wonder why in some instances.

FIRST STEP—An employer who believed in supporting all efforts to introduce a new spirit into industry had called his men together to place before them his plans for bettering working conditions.

"Now whenever I enter the workshop," he said, "I want to see every man cheerfully performing his task and therefore I invite you to place in this box any suggestions as to how that can be brought about."

A few days later he opened the box and took out a slip of paper on which was written: "Take the rubber heels off your shoes."

MEAN PEOPLE

Apparently the meanest men are those who seldom have an opportunity to exercise their meanness. Occupying positions which carry no authority over others, they store up their meanness and desire for power, and let loose the suppressed operators and other menials, who, on pain of dismissal, are forbidden to talk back.

Of all meanness, none equals that of a man who spend most of his life taking orders. I was once on the point of interfering in an ugly altercation in a public dining room and should have done so bad I not recognized the diner. He was a waiter, eating in style on his day off! His idea of a pleasant evening was finding fault with another waiter.

Fortunately, I recollected the fate of the man who struck a teamster for abusing a horse and in the scuffle was kicked by the horse.

A Chicago man was fined $25 for stealing a bar of soap. If he'd have stolen the city hall somebody would have patted him on the back.

Dr. Arthur Compton of the University of Chicago has announced the accurate measurement of one one-hundredth millionth of an inch. Why bother about such mere trifles.

MODERN JOURNALISM—From Guntersville, Ala. Democrat DIED: At the home of his son on Brindlee, H. M. Jones, a Confederate veteran, over 80 years old Mr. Jones was a man who earned the respect of all who did business with him. He was honest, square and unpretentious.

Since setting the above we have learned that Mr. Jones was not an ex-soldier.

Today's Tightwad—The fellow who dipped his pennies in camphor to keep the moth out of Lincoln's beard.

No woman is beautiful early in the morning. That's the reason so many milkmen are bachelors.

She took my hand in sheltered nooks.

She took my candy and my books.

She took that lustrous wrap of fur.

She took those gloves I bought for her.

She took my words of love and care.

She took my flowers rich and rare.

She took my time for quite a while.

She took my kisses, maid so shy—

She took, I must confess, my eye.

She took whatever I would buy.

And then she took another guy.

Wonders Of Nature—The love-light in a woman's eyes usually goes out soon after marriage.

Take It Or Leave It—The machine gun has been so popular in Chicago that the manufacturers are now making a smaller model for the home.

Fifteen government agents crashed through the doors of an alleged Capone brewery in a Chicago suburb the other day and confiscated a million dollars worth of equipment and beer. We suppose they will be around shortly apologizing.

The publisher of a small town newspaper was trying to get the general store owner to advertise.

Merchant—Say, I've been in this town 30 years, and every man, woman and child knows where I am and what I sell. I don't need to advertise.

Publisher—Is that so? Tell me, how long has the Methodist Church been here?

Merchant—Fifty years, I guess.

Why?

Publisher—Well, don't they still ring the bell every Sunday morning?

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

Central Press

NEW YORK, Mar. 31—As a usual thing, at this season, the vernal poet in Manhattan quits his job in the delicatessen store and wanders abroad with a joyous cry of "Hail, gentle Spring!"

The hailing of the Spring poet, as a general thing, is confined to a small, thin volume, with passionate board covers decorated with cowslips and a picture of Pan the woodland god.

MUTED MUSE

But times ain't not what they used to be—or words to that effect. Lots of good old customs and things have been kicked into the discard in the last couple o' years. And not the least of these has been the Spring poet and his hollow-chested book of verses.

"We wouldn't consider for a moment issuing a volume of poems just now," said a successful publisher the other day, "not even if the author was what Walt Whitman would call a 'boss poet.' Light, romantic fiction is about all that interests us."

A POET'S OUTLOOK

In substantiation of the above, herewith is quoted a popular and successful woman poet.

"Life is very murky. I am now doing some of my best work. But will not. Editors are digging into their safes and excavating stuff they have had on hand for the last three or four years, or longer. I expect to be starving in a garret soon. Have you a cigarette? Life is frightfully mottled!"

GAWKING GOTHAM

Anything attracts a crowd in New York. A truck drives up to a curb and workmen get busy elevating a safe to an upper office window. They hurry through immediately halt, gravely fringe each side of the "Danger" sign on the pavement. As the safe rises, up go the chins of the crowd, their lips part and they remain, alighting their nostrils till the safe disappears through the office window.

The crowd then disintegrates only to reassemble several blocks further down the street in front of a window where a tired gentleman looking a whole like Edgar Allan Poe is exhibiting a trayful of Mexican jumping beans.

THE MEMORY LINGERS O

Crowds hurrying across City Hall Park about half past eight one morning slackened their pace to rubber over their shoulders at a window washer dizzily aloft on the neighboring Woolworth Building manieuring and massaging the top-most panes.

All day long this interest, transmitted to succeeding strata of the crowd was manifested. At six o'clock—the window washer, long since having quit, thousands of men and women still gawked at Woolworth tower.

"What are you lookin' at?" I inquired of a bulbous-eyed and persistent starrer.

"Search me, Mac," he replied.

Naturally, I disregarded the invitation.

RIGHT EITHER WAY

Edward Dean Sullivan, author of "Chicago Surrenders" and "Rattling The Cup on Chicago Crime" is spending the Spring in Hollywood wising up the innocent movie folk out there on 'devilmul'.

What motion pictures need among other things, says Signor Sullivan, is not necessarily more crime, but certainly better crime.

He may mean the acting or he may be referring to the scenarios. Either or both, we second the motion.

TIPS FROM AN ACTOR

If the stage and the screen don't show signs of improvement pretty soon, it won't be for want of critics.

Here's Eddie Robinson the screen's greatest gangster telling us just where the dance of all the difficulties begins.

Eddie thinks that lack of versatile writing is largely to blame for the varicose veins that show up here and there.

"Writers haven't kept pace with the public mind," he says. "That's why the stage is gasping for life."

And then he rolls up his sleeves, spits on his hands and scribbles the following prescription:

"Be honest. Don't resort to tricks to gain your points. Make your characters natural and life-like and put yourself in their places."

"That's all there is to it. It's easy. Try it some time."

SAYS GILBERT K. CHESTER-TON:

"Shaw does well to keep out of America because he is the only American in England."

It's things like that, that leave a scar!

IF YOU EXPECT

To have honors you must earn them.

To have friends you must keep them.

To have success you must be ready to pay the price.

To have a comfortable old age you must have a working youth.

To have a religion that helps you must sacrifice for it.

To have opportunities you must be willing to make them.

To have the friendship of God you must show yourself friendly to him.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?

Or a key for a lock of his hair?

Can your eyes be called an academy because there are pupils there?

In the crown of your head what jewels are found?

Who travels the bridge of your nose?

Could you use in shingling the roof of your mouth?

The nails in the end of your toes? Could the crook in your elbow be sent to jail?

Cotton-Planting South Promised Economic Relief

William Wrigley, Jr., And
Chicago Capitalist Heads
Financing Group

WILL BUY UP ALL
SURPLUS COTTON

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Mar. 31.—Economic relief for the cotton-planting south was promised today under a plan being formulated by William Wrigley, Jr., Chicago capitalist, and a group of other middle western capitalists.

The basic idea of the relief plan will include heavy accumulation of baled cotton, which is now a drag on the market, it was reported following a long conference between Wrigley and his associates.

The exact details of the plan together with the proposed system of operation are expected to be made public today. The documents essential to launching the relief plan are being prepared by a secretarial staff.

It is understood that a system of trading credit will be set in operation for the benefit of southern planters so that in return for their surplus of cotton they will be able to obtain living commodities.

Without the relief plan southern planters have been selling at low prices or they have been holding their cotton, an extremely difficult alternative because bankers in many southern states are said to have reached the limit of their capacity to lend money on this security.

PHOTOS TELL OF EASTER TIME IN FOREIGN LANDS

These interesting photos tell a story of Easter time in other lands. They show peasants in Upper Silesia, following an old custom of washing clothing in the brook before going to prayer on Good Friday; peasants of the same section gathered around a huge doll dressed as a woman to typify winter. Each Easter time this doll is either burned or drowned while the villagers shout in glee; women of North Friesland, Holland, on their way to church on Easter Sunday, and a crucifix being carried through the streets of Menden, Westphalia. This is an ancient custom which is revived each year despite changing times. Processions follow the cross bearer.

Perry County Jurist Favors Whipping Post

Finds Many Philadelphia Judges Agree On Subject Of Whipping Post

Would Make All Statutory Offenses Punishable By Lashes

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 31.—Recommendation of visiting Judge James M. Barnett, of Perry County, that conviction on statutory charges carry with it, in addition to penitentiary terms, a liberal application of the lash at an old-fashioned whipping post met with favor today among a majority of Philadelphia county judges.

The Perry countian expressed regret, in sentencing Guido Battari, 28, that the Pennsylvania law did not authorize him to add to the penitentiary sentence lash a day. Battari was convicted of betraying a 15-year-old girl.

Six Approve Stand
Asked for their reaction to the visiting judge's stand in the Battari case, six other Philadelphia county common pleas court judges registered a vote in favor of Barnett's proposal.

Only two judges took a definite stand against employing the whipping post of colonial days as an instrument for curbing certain types of crime. Statements from seven others were unavailable.

Certain crimes, including statutory offenses, mayhem, kidnapping, arson and use of machine guns and bombs by criminals, would be punishable by a specified number of lashes administered by the county sheriff under terms of the MacDade bill now before the legislature.

Harry S. McDewitt, presiding judge, ardently favored the whipping post in punishing bandits. He described all bandits as "cowards at heart" and said they feared such punishment far more than a penitentiary sentence.

Judge Horace Stern, one of the group opposing that form of punishment, believes that the last would be useless in improving criminals. He suggested that it would be a poor means of rebuilding a criminal's mind.

Employment Bureau Here Makes Another Plea For Odd Jobs

Spring is here once more, with its housecleaning still a problem that must be faced squarely by the average housewife. R. L. Meermans, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and superintendent of the state co-operative employment office in the "Y" building, believes the time is favorable for numerous odd jobs about the home. He requests housewives and others who have jobs such as cleaning cellars, windows, wall paper, yards, etc., to communicate with him.

Help for such work is available, since scores of jobless persons have registered with the state employment office. During the past few days many women have responded to a request for registration, and at the present the office has a long list of men and women who can do odd jobs such as washing, window and wall paper cleaning, etc.

Prospective employers are urged to telephone the local Y. M. C. A. Call 215.

Mayor's Relief Committee Will Soon End Task

Lack Of Funds Forces Curtailment Of Activities At Present Time

Lack of funds will undoubtedly force the Mayor's Relief Committee to suspend operations in the near future, it was stated by officials of the committee this morning.

At the present time, a deficit exists and the committee does not feel justified in incurring further expense with no further financing in sight.

From December on to the present time, the committee has taken care of approximately 200 families each week, supplying them with groceries. In addition, a great many garments have been furnished. In the neighborhood of 400 women's coats, along with dresses, shoes, and stockings were given out, besides a great quantity of men's and children's garments.

Had it not been for the activities of the committee many people would have suffered during the winter. The employees of the National Radiator Company have been the most loyal supporters of the fund, since its organization, having contributed a total of $1,200 from their wages in weekly amounts.

No other organization has rendered such material assistance and the committee is deeply grateful for their generous help.

Missing Persons Bureau In Pittsburgh Has Task, Strange Tales Unfolded

Port Of Missing Men—And Women At Pittsburgh Grows Bigger Each Day

Some Seek Romance, Others Adventure, Some Are Victims Of Slayings

By SIDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 31.—The port of missing men—and women. What strange fate awaits those who fail to return to the family hearthside tonight? A sudden disappearance, without warning and without reason.

Or a hastily scribbled note: "My hearting is breaking. I am going away. Forgive me..." Missing persons! Where are they? Why have they disappeared? Why do they shun the home folks? What are their histories?

Always Sordid Side

Mrs. Ida J. Forsaith, head of the missing persons division of the Pittsburgh police department, smiles sadly at the barrage of newspapermen's questions. She strikes the keynote of the division with the observation: "There is the sordid side to practically every disappearance."

Day by day the port of missing ones snatches its daily quota of men, women and children—and the great majority are girls. For every man who drops from sight into the morass of silence, there are four women; of the four, three are girls in their teens.

Since January 1, more than 400 persons have disappeared from their homes in the Pittsburgh district. Tonight, that number will be increased to at least 405. The alluring beacon at the port of missing men is taking its toll.

Majority Are Girls

The most casual glance through the missing persons files reveals the enormity of the problem. There are hundreds of pictures, mostly of girls. Girls with bobbed tresses, and old-fashioned girls; some with vivacious smiles, others wistful as though warned of the fate that awaited.

The reporter plucks one picture at random from the files. Here is one who has fled the long hand of the bureau, from city to city. She refuses to return home. She hides her identity under a false name the pleadings of broken-hearted parents, relayed through the bureau, refuse to move her.

"I can't go back to face the old folks now," she says.

And another... This one the victim of a December-May romance. She fled with a man many years older than herself. Probably she has realized her mistake. But the "folks back home" mustn't know.

Scattered notes find their way to her parents from cities on the western edge of the continent. Brief, reassuring notes.

"I'm all right," they say. Nothing more. "All right." Perhaps.

Many Clues Followed

Here is the picture of a high school girl. Only seventeen. Laughing, intelligent brown eyes. Her schoolmates described her as "so charming". She is the only daughter of a prominent father and mother.

Attached to the picture is a heavy file, reams of yellow sheets, copies of letters and telegrams, newspaper clippings. Some tell stories of amnesia wanderers. Others, the discovery of unidentified bodies taken to the morgue. One formal "we regret it" report letter from a large city police department attaches a childishly scrawled note, written by a shopgirl hundreds of miles away who has read the story in the newspapers and is "sure" she has seen the missing girl.

Such straw-like clues are investigated thoroughly. Usually, without avail.

The missing persons bureau has paraphrased the "Cherchez La Femme" of the French investigators. "Look for the man," they say, when a woman disappears. And they look for the man by tracing the origin of love letters and mash notes. There are hundreds of them, carefully preserved in the files.

Men More Stable

"The first thing they do is change their names," Mrs. Forsaith explains. "The young girls try at the beginning, to eke out their existence by legitimate means."

"The odds are against them. In a month, perhaps a week, the tentacles of a despicable traffic have unfolded another victim. They don't go back home, then. The mills of vice grind slowly, but thoroughly. The girl is buried. It never reaches daylight."

What is the reason for the preponderant majority of missing girls over men who have disappeared?

Men are more stable," Mrs. Forsaith says. "Most of them are weighed down with responsibilities which, unfortunately, the young girl escapes."

Receded In 1930

"They are bound by a sense of duty. When they disappear, in most cases they are the victims of foul play. Always excepting, of course, the lad in his teens. In his case, it's often a girl. More often, it's the lure of adventure, the desire to travel."

So the procession goes. But there is a hopeful note. In 1928 there were 2,510 men, women and children reported missing. Of these, the bureau located 1,791. Some were returned to their homes; others refused to go back.

In 1929, the figure increased to 2,239 persons, of whom 1,859 were found, while in 1930, it receded to 2,116.

Resume Sessions Seeking Peace In Hard Coal Strike

Pledges Of Support From Mine Union Officials Will Be Sought

MINERS BREAK UP MEETING MONDAY

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Mar. 31.—Pledges of support and cooperation from district mine union officials will be sought today at an executive session of the general grievance committee representing some 20,000 striking Glen Alden Coal company employees here.

The grievance committee today will attempt what had been scheduled for last night but which was forced over when miners who jammed the meeting broke into the program to debate proposals for a return to work and tied up the entire proceedings.

A report of the resolutions committee setting forth reasons for the strike and grievances for which adjustment is demanded will probably be laid before district president John Boylan and other officers today and an attempt made to obtain their cooperation with the strikers' program. The latter demand adjustment of grievances before returning to work while union heads have urged them to return before they take up arbitration efforts.

Principal grievance is the dismissal of old employees by the Glen Alden Company and their replacement with new workers.

At last night's meeting, union officials urged the strikers to return to work at once pending adjustment of their difficulties. Miners present took the floor and debated the proposal so long and to such little purpose no action could be taken on the resolutions committee report.

Burke Depending On Gangsters To Get Trial Funds

Fred "Killer" Burke, Notorious Criminal Reports Himself "Broke"

IS HUMOROUS AND SULLEN IN JAIL

Heavy Guard Maintained Around Cell Holding Man Charged With 21 Killings

(International News Service) ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Mar. 31.—Fred "Killer" Burke, described by police as "the most dangerous gangster in America" and the purported slayer of 21 men, is nearly broke.

The super-assassin declared today that he was depending on New York and Chicago gangsters to raise a fund to finance his defense against charges of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Charles Skelly there.

He was said to have had several thousand dollars at the time of his arrest but "it isn't near enough for my defense," he stated.

Lawyer Expected.

Burke, who less than two years ago posed as a retired and wealthy man and lived in a pretentious home here, declared that he was expecting an attorney from either Chicago or New York to fight the murder charges.

"There will be a lawyer here," Burke insisted. "I don't know who he will be, or where he will be from, but there will be one."

Barrett O'Hara, Chicago criminal lawyer, whose arrival here yesterday led to reports that he had been retained to defend Burke, left late last night after learning Burke was without funds, according to reports.

He might return, O'Hara admitted, but he was not at all sure.

Seeking Woman.

Meanwhile, it was learned that officials here are seeking Mrs. Viola Brennerman, formerly of Kankakee, Ill., who lived with Burke as his wife prior to the Skelly slaying.

Police believe that the woman may be ready to talk now as the result of Burke's marriage to another woman, the daughter of a Missouri farmer.

Burke, held in a closely guarded cell which has been termed escape-proof, was alternatively in a joking and sullen mood.

Asked how he liked his narrow cell, Burke replied that "it was almost as good as the Ritz."

He lost his attitude of good humor, however, after he inquired about his fishing tackle and golf clubs which he was forced to abandon here when he fled after the Skelly murder.

Told that his "wife" (Mrs. Brennerman) had sold them, he snarled: "Robbed of everything, eh!"

Refuses To Plea.

"It looks pretty bad for me," Burke admitted while talking with interviewers regarding the charge of murdering Patrolman Charles Skelly here on Dec. 14, 1929, for which he was brought back from the scene of his capture at St. Joseph, Mo.

Crowds continue to gather about the jail.

April 8 was set as the date for an examining trial when Burke was arraigned yesterday before Justice Joseph Collier, Jr. He refused to make any plea when arraigned, following his announced policy of "if they want me, they'll have to fight for me."

Child Labor Bill Is Defeated Today

Senate Votes Down Salus Bill Reducing Working Hours For Minors

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 31.—By a vote of only 17 "ayes" and 24 "noes" the Senate today defeated the Salus bill which would have reduced from 51 to 48 the hours which a minor may be permitted to work in one week.

During the same session two bills, backed by the public service commission investigating committee to strengthen the public service law were passed without opposition.

The Salus bill was backed by a number of state labor organizations, including the State Federation of Labor, whose president, John Phillips, was in the Senate chamber when the vote was taken. The manufacturing interests of the state always have opposed a bill which would further reduce the weekly limit for employed minors.

One of the public service law bills will create a people's counsel bureau in the department of justice whose sole purpose will be the handling of complaints made against the commission. The services of the bureau's counsel will be free to those who complain against proposed increased rates.

Miss Thelma Davis and L. F. Hemenway, Greenville's entrants in the contest, won the first place decisions. Both were presented $50 bills, the prize offered.

Miss Mae Cummings, New Castle entrant placed second, while Mrs. Elizabeth Carson, also of this city was fourth. Miss Mary Oaks, Sharon was third place winner. In the men's section, W. H. Cummings, this city was rated third. P. F. Brown, Sharon was second and W. T. Donovan, Zellenople was fourth.

Martin's Sister Testifies Today

Woman Says "Hymie" Was In Pittsburgh Day Potter Apartment Rented

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, Mar. 31.—"Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, accused slayer of former Councilman William E. Potter, was in Pittsburgh at his mother's bedside in Montefiore hospital on January 27, the day the state claims he rented the Potter death suite in Cleveland.

That startling bit of testimony was given at Hymie's murder trial in criminal court here today by Mrs. Cecelia Sigal, Hymie's sister, who took the stand as a surprise witness in her brother's behalf.

The woman provided another sensation for the crowded courtroom when she fainted and fell to the floor as she started to leave the stand. Court attendants carried her into a nearby room and revived her.

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 31.—Eleven gas stations of the Hi-Test Gas and Oil company, all but one located in and around Wilkes-Barre, today were closed under order of the State Department of Revenue for failure to pay the state gas tax. Total delinquent taxes for the eleven stations was estimated between $50,000 and $75,000 by the department.

Dr. Clyde L. King, revenue secretary, said the orders closing the stations were the first of a series which will be issued by the department in its drive to bring in delinquent liquid fuel taxes.

From the Wilkes-Barre office of the Hi-Test company, it was announced that the company's business had already been curtailed by the departmental order and that state police had been stationed at some of the filling stations named.

College Maidens Deny Trouble On Basketball Floor

(International News Service) CALIFORNIA, Pa., Mar. 31.—Marjorie Edwards, a member of the "California Independents," today requested International News Service to deny published reports that the California State Teachers basketball team was involved in the game with the "Golden Vanties" of Pittsburgh which broke up last night with a bit of hair-tugging by opposing players.

Miss Edwards pointed out that while the "California Independents" quintet was composed of students at the college, the team did not officially represent, nor it is named, the California State Teachers basketball team.

"Y" Drive Boys Team Heads Meet

Four Heads Of Boys Division
Gather Tonight; Name Groups Ready For Campaign

PRESIDENT HOOVER
PRAISES "Y" WORK

Rapidly formulating last plans and completing the ranks of the machine that will manage the annual membership campaign for the Y. M. C. A. starting April 7 workers under General Chairman C. W. Herman Hess have added another link to the already formidable drive organization.

The four team captains of the Boy's Division have completed their teams and are ready to begin work. Although the opening date has been set for April 7 the boys have been working hard to get the best line of workers for the opening shot of the membership drive. Last year the Boy's group turned in more members than any other division, and reports are current today that they are prepared to duplicate this stunt again this year.

Will Meet Tonight

Roger Mermans, chairman of this division is calling a meeting of all workers on the four teams of boys for this evening at 6:30 o'clock at which time plans will be formulated for the drive. Dinner will be served to the workers, and every team member is expected to be present.

W. A. Thomas, the local "Y" boys' work director, is the secretary and coach of this division, and he declares the boys are all prepared to go for memberships to inaugurate the drive.

Quote Hoover

Officials of the drive for members which starts on April 7 are enthusiastic over President Hoover's praise of Y. M. C. A. work. Like other national leaders, the President is declared by the "Y" workers to have expressed himself as follows on the work:

"You are where the issues will be decided among the young. Your program leads directly to interests real and wholesome in their life. Life goes the way youth finally takes. A character-forming movement may not be taken lightly that reaches with strength into the colleges and high schools; that has a multitude of boys swarming around its buildings, clubs and playgrounds, whose army and navy buildings serve daily the passing stream of enlisted men in the country's service. I know of nothing more essential to be done in this generation for the present and future good of mankind than for your hopes and aspirations to be realized."

Team Workers

Frank Baldwin, Captain; Jack Stevenson, Hugh Hannon, Numer Habib, Ray George, Roy Denney, Hib Reynolds, Bud Purdue, Bill McBurney, Howard Berkeley, James Solus, Solomon Waldman.

Edward Rumbough, Captain; William Offutt, Jack Cole, Howard Rumbough, Ross Brindbaugh, Jas. Foster, Dick Vanderslice, William Stoughton, Clem Semler.

BERLIN, Mar. 31.—Foreign Minister Dr. Julius Curtius announced today that the German government, in accordance with proposals made by Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson of Britain, has consented to submit the projected Austro-German customs union treaty to a judicial investigation by the League of Nations council.

Dr. Curtius, in making the official announcement forecast exclusively by International News Service two days ago, qualified his statement to the federal council as follows:

"We cannot admit that such an investigation is necessary, but we do not reject it. Our political objection is directed against treating such a purely economic agreement as a danger to European peace."

DANDRUFF Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Dozens Of Hunters Seek Black Panther

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Mar. 31.—Somewhere in the brush country between Three Rivers and George West, a big black panther, rarely found in this country, is matching his wits against no less than a dozen hunters who for weeks have been stalking him.

An invasion of that part of the state by panthers from Mexico this year has made panther hunting one of the chief diversions for ranchmen in that section. Three have been killed within the last month, but the ambition of every rancher is to hunt in the big cat that has evaded hunters and steadily ravaged cattle herds all over the section.

Several persons have seen the huge cat, usually in the early morning as he stole quietly across an open plot near a corral or ranch house.

He has always managed to stay out of gun range, however, and efforts to track him have led his pursuers weary miles along a trail spotted with the carcasses of half-devooured colts and yearlings.

Horses will soon be clipped, it was learned today. Clipping parts have been received at the armory.

Capt. Bintrim, Lieut. Reed and Lieut. Mitchell will attend a regimental meeting of officers of the 103rd Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard, to be held soon in Philadelphia. The date of the gathering is not yet known.

Non commissioned officers' school held in the armory last night was well attended. The meeting was in charge of Lieuts. Reed and Mitchell.

The commander has received an offer from a light promoter to hold boxing matches in the armory hall. Whether the hall will be hired for this purpose is not yet known.

Remodeling of the armory hall and rooms is completed, the captain said today. Workers finished their work last week.

To Ask Bids On State Highway

More Than 53 Miles Of Construction Planned By Department

FEDERAL FUNDS TO HELP FINANCE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 31.—More than 53 miles of state highway construction is listed by the state highway department for bids which will be opened here April 17. Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis announced here today. Twelve projects in as many counties will be completely financed by federal aid funds.

"Many important gaps and short cuts will be improved under these contracts, most of them badly needed for some time," Lewis said in announcing the letting, second of this year. "None represents replacement of existing surface and construction of macadam types will be the rule."

Two projects aggregating more than eight miles in Elk county will provide a connecting link between St. Marys and Johnsonburg and result in a saving of several miles between Emporium and Erie. This improvement will be of particular interest and benefit to motorists from the Williamsport, Scranton and Pocono districts who seek a direct route to the northwestern part of the state, Lewis pointed out. Extension of a by-pass route east of Philadelphia in Bucks county, between Buckingham and Pipersville, is also scheduled in the letting. This road, to be extended about eight and a half miles, will carry shore-bound traffic from Allentown and the anthracite region in a direct line, avoiding Philadelphia.

Projects in Clarion county will tend to shorten the distance between Pittsburgh and Buffalo, while others are of equal importance in intrastate traffic. Projects to be bid on at the letting are:

Armstrong-Butler-Venango counties: 3.22 miles macadam on Route 704, in Hovey, Allegheny and Scrubgrass townships.

Berks county: 2.29 miles macadamizing Route 310, Tulphocken and Bethel townships.

Bucks county: 8.47 miles macadamizing Route 656, in Bedminster, Plumstead and Buckingham townships.

Cambria county: 5.80 miles macadamizing on Routes 53 and 276, in Gallitzin township and Ashville borough.

Clarion county: 1.72 miles macadamizing, Route 380 in Farmington township. 6.76 miles macadamizing, Route 237, in Redbank township and Hawthorne borough.

Clearfield county: 5.66 miles macadamizing and bridge, Route 669 in Gulch and Woodward townships.

Elk county: 2.9 miles concrete and 3.78 miles macadamizing Route 565, in Benzing township and St. Marys borough, and 4.23 miles macadamizing, Route 556 in Benzing and Ridgway townships and Johnsonburg borough.

Huntingdon county: 4.85 miles macadamizing and .08 miles grading, Route 261 in Oneida and Miller townships.

Susquehanna county: 5.35 miles macadamizing and .03 miles grading, Route 316, in Auburn and Rush townships.

Union county: 1.27 miles macadamizing, Route 27, in Limestone township.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

It's a far cry to the days of what was termed Grove Street Green but there are still some of the boys of yesterday, who remember when that was the place where all the circuses showed. Of course in those days, the circuses were not as large as they are for the most part today and the Green was ample for the shows, such as they were.

In fact the Green was the place of all events of a special public character, where lots of space was needed. One of the last events of importance held on the Green, so called, not so much because of the green grass, for there was little there, but rather because public assembly grounds were quite generally designated by that term years ago, was the Sunday Meetings.

The great tabernacle of Billy Sunday was erected in that district and it was there that the great throngs of people, night after night, gathered in the big wooden tabernacle to listen to the evangelist, who was at that time reaching the heights of his efforts as a religious worker.

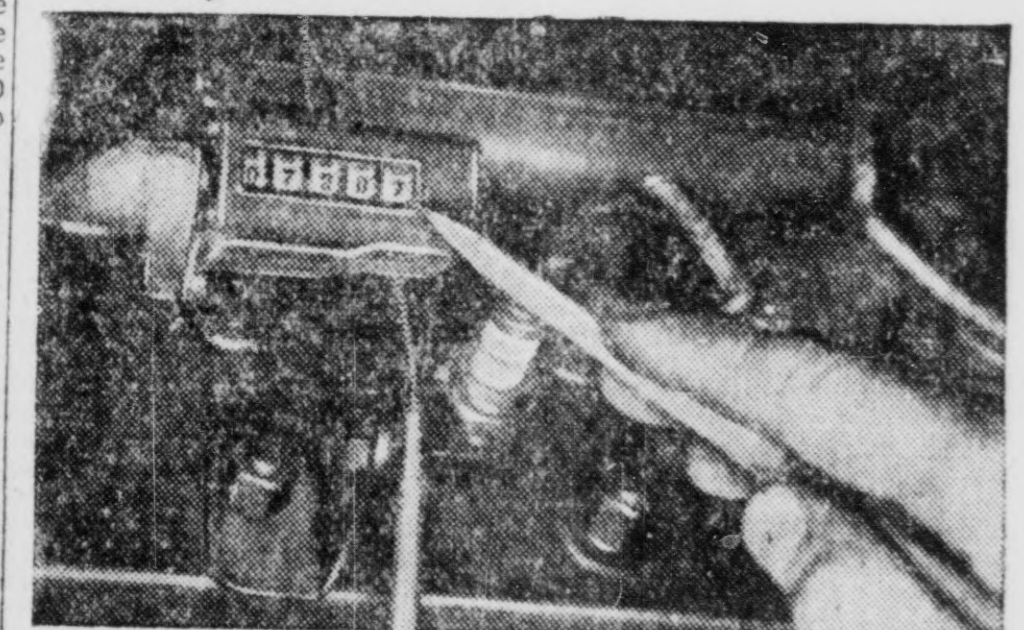

Tomorrow: The Old Timers Picnic.

SCOUTS AID BABY
(International News Service)
OGDEN, Utah, Mar. 31.—The good turn day of Ogden boy scouts has been turned towards saving the life of a two-year-old girl. The little girl, daughter of Allen Holliday, was injured when her arm was crushed in an electric wringer. Amputation can be avoided only by grafting skin of other persons onto the child's shoulder and arm, according to Dr. H. E. Robinson, her physician. More than 100 boy scouts have offered to donate a small portion of the skin of their arms to save the child's arm from amputation.

Kotex stays soft longer

One of the many reasons why you should demand this sanitary pad

KOTEX
Try the new Kotex Sanitary Belt

KOTEX is soft, and it stays soft. It does not pack into chafing hardness after use. Millions of women have discovered that fact, and they are particular to specify Kotex.

One of the reasons why Kotex stays soft is the way in which it absorbs—quickly, scientifically over the entire length of the pad. Many other pads absorb in one concentrated area which soon becomes uncomfortable.

Kotex is guaranteed to last longer, stay soft longer, than any other sanitary pad. You can wear Kotex on either side, with no chance of possible embarrassment, with the same degree of efficiency. It is treated to deodorize. It is shaped to fit. And it is, of course, disposable.

May Not Start New Projects Until June

Although city council has approved plans and specifications for the paving of nine thoroughfares here it is not believed, according to councilmen, that the improvements can be started here until June unless the city uses the balance of the money which was obtained through the sale of the municipal conduit.

The conduit was sold for $70,000 a year ago and the fund has been decreased owing to the construction of a storm sewer in Meyer avenue and widening of The Narrows.

About $23,000 of the money has been used and according to the city engineer this would be sufficient to pay the city's share of the repaving of the nine streets.

There are other thoroughfares to be paved and resurfaced. The present $47,000, now in the general improvement fund, would not be sufficient for the additional jobs, it is learned.

Councilman Burns in explaining to colleagues, said no money could be realized from the proposed bond issue of $100,000, until the money is actually secured.

He stated that by the time the ordinance is advertised several weeks, bids taken and a contract awarded plus the time it will take for successful bidders to get their supplies, June will be here.

Preventive Measures Banish Ill

Mysterious Maladies Traced To Lead Poisoning

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Lead poisoning was once a common and serious disease. Called "painter's colic," it now rarely affects painters. Preventive measures introduced into the painting trades and the reduction of the use of lead in commercial paints have been responsible for this. It is more frequently seen in the wards of a general hospital among automobile battery mechanics than any other trade at present.

Lead poisoning causes abdominal cramps, paralysis, blood changes, abnormal mental states and gout. Lead can be absorbed into the body by the digestive tract, by absorption through the skin, by breathing it in, and absorption through the mucous membranes of the mouth.

Isolated cases (that is, outside of industrial plants or trades using lead) may be very mysterious. A woman on a farm developed undoubted lead poisoning. The question was where the lead came from. It was found she had a pile of kindling wood painted on one side. She used the wood to bake in a large open oven. She ate the crust of the bread, while a toothless old grandmother and a child ate the middle of the bread; neither of them developed lead poisoning. Investigation disclosed that the paint on the kindling deposited lead on the under crust of the bread.

A dairyman whose water supply was neither pumped nor piped through lead pipes, acquired lead poisoning. It was found he drank home brew, made by himself, and cleaned his beer bottles by shaking lead shot in them.

This reminds me of the early description of lead poisoning. It was called "Devonshire colic," and seemed to be associated with the cider made in the county of Devon, England. The cause was pointed out by George Baker, who noted that large pieces of lead were put into the cider vats (for what purpose—stirring or mixing—I do not know). He extracted lead from the Devon cider, and showed there was none in the cider of Herefordshire. He was denounced as not a 100 per cent Devonshire man by his neighbors, but they took the lead from their cider just the same, and so banished the colic.

Cosmetics occasionally cause lead poisoning, usually, of course, in women, though I have happily heard of one chorus man who got leaded (as the saying is among painters) that way. Some face powders can be made to give a metallic dead white appearance to the skin by adding lead carbonate to the powder. It also furnishes the additional advantage that it sticks very closely to the skin after application, not being removed by perspiration or other assaults. One form of face powder was formerly said to be nothing but lead carbonate. Reputable manufacturers of face powder have eliminated lead from their products.

A family in which four of the women members died of lead poisoning due to the use of face powder has been reported. One woman in the family was very sick but did not die. The family epidemic of disease was regarded as mysterious, the most mysterious part being that the male members, the father and a little boy, were entirely healthy.

Farmhouse Coup Ends Search for 'Killer' Burke

Arrest of Ex-Convict, Most Wanted Man in Criminal History, Brings Claims From Six States, All Eager to End His Career.

CHICAGO, Mar. 31.—A nationwide search of more than two years terminated the other day when "hick" cops of the St. Joseph, Mo., police force trapped Fred "Killer" Burke, asleep in a farmhouse near there. Termed the greatest criminal of modern times, Burke was sought by police and federal authorities to answer for 20 murders and robberies, in which the loot totaled a million dollars. Eighteen states are anxious to put him to his career of lawlessness.

Known as a man who would shoot on sight, Burke was caught through the fearlessness of Capt. John Laird and Officers Kelly, Thedings and Swepston of the St. Joseph police, who surprised him in an isolated farmhouse and captured him without a struggle.

Of particular interest is Burke's possible connection with the St. Valentine's Day massacre of the seven members of the "Bugs" Moran gang. This was a machine gun job and Burke is "credited" with having first introduced the machine gun in gang warfare.

Michigan authorities also want him as the suspect in the shooting of Policeman Charles Skelly, who was killed by a man answering to Burke's description while questioning him for a traffic violation. A raid on the St. Joseph, Mich., home of Burke and Viola Dane had been occupying as "Mr. and Mrs. Dene," disclosed a well equipped arsenal. But Burke had flown to the other day.

New York may also be interested in questioning "the most dangerous criminal in America," as gangland rumors connect him with the killing of Frankie Yale, notorious gangster, who was "machine-gunned" in a truly workman-like manner.

Ohio has long sought Burke for the slaying of a Toledo policeman during a holdup. Indiana also wishes to question him in connection with the killing of a woman during a bank robbery at Columbus City and the wounding of another woman and a sheriff.

If the Chicago garage massacre is proved to be the handiwork of the "killer" he will be much safer in the grip of the law than he would be at large with the vengeful "Bugs" Moran on his trail. Moran has sworn to "get" the parties responsible for the wiping out of the flower of his gang, so it would appear that regardless of how Mr. Burke fares in his tussle with the constituted law of the country, he will have to reckon with the more inexorable one of the underworld.

Relative Same Name As Son Is Found To Be Dead

DeMarco Family Find That Mistake Made In Sending Message Here

Mr. and Mrs. James DeMarco and family of Wabash avenue, are rejoicing today over the fact that the message received from Chicago recently announcing the death as they supposed of their son and brother Joseph DeMarco, was untrue, although the message brought sorrow to them due to the fact that the person who was dead, was a relative.

Upon the receipt of the message stating that Joseph DeMarco had died suddenly in Chicago, without explaining the cause or manner of death, James DeMarco and son John left immediately for that city, expecting to find their son and brother dead at that place.

Instead on their arrival they were both surprised and relieved to find that such was not the case but that the deceased person referred to in the message was Joseph DeMarco, an uncle of Mrs. James DeMarco, who bore the same name as the son and brother, whom they had gone to Chicago to take care of.

Mr. DeMarco and son returned home today from Chicago after attending the obsequies of the deceased relative. The many friends of Joseph DeMarco who was supposed to be dead, will be glad to learn that he is still alive and well.

Fined For Selling Junked Automobiles

Auto Wrecker Found Violating State Law In Selling Old Machines

Morris Lerner of the Moravia street Auto Wrecking Company was assessed a fine and costs on three charges of failing to have automobiles titled, in violation of Section C-210 of Act 403, relating to the auto code.

The act stipulates that the purchaser of a motor vehicle must get a title within ten days after getting possession of a car. The real charge in the case was that of selling automobiles which had been sold to him to be junked. The resale of these cars for use as motor vehicles is prohibited by the law.

Now perhaps you wish you had kept your lot in Florida. The State is selling tons of frog legs.

Convicted Erie Attorney Files Court Petition

Attorney Rossiter, Files Petition Asking Government Witnesses Be Recalled

NEW TRIAL MOTION ALSO IS ENTERED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 31.—Samuel Y. Rossiter, prominent Erie attorney convicted in the prisoner substitution trial in federal court at Erie, today had filed a petition with Judge Nelson McVicar, presiding jurist at the trial, requesting the court to compel certain government witnesses to appear for a hearing for cross-examination relative to their knowledge of material facts regarding the case which were not disclosed at the trial.

The petition is supplementary to a motion Rossiter has pending for a new trial. Rossiter avers, in the petition, that the government suppressed evidence that would have been favorable to him. He also asks that his father, Judge U. P. Rossiter and Joseph M. Schilling be permitted to give testimony as to their knowledge of facts acquired after the trial, regarding a conversation between Stanley Wells and William E. Peterson. The latter is a United States coast guard.

Rule Is Granted.
Judge McVicar granted a rule, returnable Thursday, on United States, Attorney Louis E. Graham, to show cause why Peterson and Prohibition Agents Park McCandless and Robert Young should not be compelled to attend a hearing for cross-examination, and why testimony by Judge

Rossiter and Schilling should not be permitted.

Rossiter avers in the petition that since the trial he learned that McCandless, who had testified at the trial that the "Rossiter" was present at the office of Commissioner Enoch Filer, in Erie, September 25, 1929, when Wells and Fred Black gave bonds for a hearing, was not positive now of his recollection of the presence of Rossiter.

Evidence Weak.
Rossiter avers that Young had been subpoenaed as a government witness, but not called to the witness stand. He alleged that if Young had been called he would have testified that the petitioner was not present at the commissioner's office when the bonds were given.

The petition alleges that the government did not bring out testimony tending to show that Peterson obtained admissions from Wells that Rossiter had no complicity or connection with the substitution. It cited that Peterson went to Colborne, Ont., to interview Wells for the purpose of gaining admissions that would incriminate Rossiter, but was informed by Wells that Rossiter had nothing to do with the crime charged. The petition alleged that Peterson falsely represented he was no longer in the government service, but engaged in the insurance business.

Farical License Bill Raps Tax Measures

(International News Service)
DES MOINES, Mar. 31.—A "rap" was taken at the flow of tax measures before the Iowa legislature recently when a member of the House of Representatives introduced a bill which would require farmers to obtain licenses before being permitted to follow their agricultural pursuits.

The measure went at great lengths to define a farmer as one "who disturbs the soil with plow, hoe, rake or other tool and who gives comfort" to horses, cows, hogs and other domestic animals as well as domestic fowls. The qualifications of the license collector were that he would either have to have been born on a farm or to have worked on one for at least three weeks.

An equally jocular amendment to a barber's bill in the Senate provided that barbers would have "to have the same educational qualifications as those demanded of a member of the General Assembly. When queried as to the exact educational qualifications demanded of the measure was indefinite and affably offered to reverse his proposal and require legislators to have the same educational qualifications as demanded of barbers. The amendment was withdrawn from the floor without a vote being taken upon it.

BUREAU HERE ASKS FARMERS TO HELP
If three Lawrence County farmers, possibly a bit rushed at the present time, could provide an odd job of some sort for three worthy local applicants, County Poor Director M. B. Hogue would at least have a part of his worries removed.

The bureau has been somewhat successful in placing men in farm-hand jobs this winter.

Mr. Hogue would appreciate a call from any farmer who might have work to do. His phone number is 5183.

"IT PROTECTS YOU!"

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Educational Sobering Up Due—Myers

College Professor Deplores Modern Training

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

"Dear Sir: I thought of writing you a few times. Your articles ought to be welcome to parents who live in these times when education, so-called, is experimented with by people who are not educated themselves. I have taught for 42 years. I get the product of all the methods. I teach German, sometimes Greek. I find that a majority cannot copy the word correctly from the blackboard, though I give them all the time they want. These educators have eliminated all memory work, and if I would listen to their description of older methods I would have to believe that I am an ignoramus and uneducated. They cannot see that human being is a plant that grows. What would they say, if we said to a plant: 'Now, I give you so many minutes to grow so many leaves?'"

"The tendencies are bad. The persons who probably would be the best teachers will not go into a profession which wants to kill all the individuality which is the best asset that a teacher has."

Answer: My dear Professor: I am particularly pleased to hear from a fellow college teacher.

On the whole I agree with you. I do believe, however, that you and I are tempted to think nothing can be quite so fine as the good old ways; nevertheless, I must share with you a deep regret that the average pupil in our school does not learn the alphabet of precision. He finds it better to be rapid than right. Accuracy always on the scaffold, speed forever on the throne. With you, I also regret that memory is so generally despised and neglected in the modern school, even in religious training of the Sunday school. Children like to memorize a few facts, and facts do come in handy often; and they are essential to clear thinking. I wish my children might be encouraged to memorize a number of the rare gems of literature, including some of the literary treasures of the Bible. Apparently they get no such encouragement in the public school.

By and by I believe we are going to become more sober, after some sprees in disregard for all that once seemed to have value, and that we shall not scrap everything just because it is old. I believe we by and by will expect to cultivate some wholesome habits of fact-mastery and will work for moral and intellectual values, through emphasis on precision in learning, making our students happier in the meanwhile, and not preparing so many of them to be neurotics or applicants for insane asylums.

In my next book I am hitting the modern mania for speeding in school as hard as I know how, and am doing it chiefly from the angle of the learner's mental health and personality.

Thanks for your encouragement.

The Central Electricity Board of Ireland has announced that it will spend $10,000,000 for extensions of power lines and other improvements.

SHE LOVED TO EAT BUT WAS ALWAYS PUNISHED FOR IT

Much of the suffering from so-called "indigestion" or acid-dyspepsia could be avoided if everyone could know what thousands like Miss Lillian Ralston have learned. This New York City business woman, who lives at 1160 Park Avenue, says:

"I suffered from headaches and heartburn after meals; couldn't sleep like I should; never felt right."

"For five years I experimented with medicines and treatments, until I learned about Pape's Diapepsin. I have used three packages now; have gained five pounds, and feel fine. I eat meats and anything I please. At the first sign of discomfort I chew a tablet of Pape's Diapepsin and the trouble is gone in a minute."

If you, too, suffer from sourness, gas, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, or pain after eating—either regularly or just at times, get a box of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist. Then you need never worry again about what you eat. These tablets are like candy and just as harmless. If you would like to try them before buying, write Pape's Diapepsin, Wheeling, W. Va., and you will receive a sample box, FREE.

Nineteen Moslems Reported Killed

Racial Strife Continues In United Provinces; Heavy Guard Installed

(International News Service)
BOMBAY, Mar. 31.—Racial strife which has raged with bloody consequences in the United Provinces between Hindus and Moslems the past week flared anew today with the cold-blooded murder of nineteen Moslems in a town opposite Cawnpore, scene of previous slayings.

The latest massacre occurred in Unao, located on the opposite of the Ganges River within view of Cawnpore. The Hindus, after killing the Moslems, threw the bodies into the Ganges.

Cawnpore remained quiet, and is gradually returning to normalcy. Heavily armed guards remained, however, to frustrate further racial outbreaks.

Infant Aids Man To Escape Jail

Men Picks Up Baby And Walks Out Of Jail When Crowd Gathers

(International News Service)
SUPERIOR, Wis., Mar. 31.—The sheriff's office today was looking for a 3 year old baby who was the cause of the escape of C. W. "Red" Haggerty from the county jail where he was being held on a narcotic peddling charge.

Haggerty took advantage of a crowded condition in the jail yesterday by picking up the child and walking to freedom with the 3 year old under his arm.

The child had been left in the waiting room by a woman whose name was not learned.

Slender Figures

All about you prove that science has discovered

A New Foe to Fat

A few years ago, millions of people suffered from excess fat. It was a blight to beauty, health and vim. Lives were shortened, all life's joys reduced.

Now look about. Excess fat is fast disappearing. Not by starvation, not by harmful drugs. Science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. Its secretion helps turn food into fuel and energy. A scanty secretion lets too much food turn to fat.

Now doctors the world over combine that cause. They feed the lacking factor until weight returns to normal.

That factor is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to fit the average case. Thus any obese person may employ this method in its best form at small cost.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others, and the use has spread. Now a large part of the slenderness you see is due to this master help.

Now excess fat is folly. It is also folly to starve or overdo, or use methods harmful or absurd. The right method—the method which all doctors now employ—is at your call. The price at your drug store is only $1.

Go get it today if you need it. A book in the box gives the formula and explains the reasons for results. Don't carry this burden longer when people all about you have so easily thrown it off.

ANALYZE THE VALUE

1 Weigh, in your own mind, the importance of grace and beauty in a motor car. Then consider, one after another, the various factors which are responsible for the new Oldsmobile's striking appearance... its smart and distinctive new front end design—its long, low, fleet-looking lines—its tastefully appointed and luxuriously finished bodies by Fisher.

2 Consider, next, the desirability of capable all-round performance. Then analyze the new Oldsmobile's wheel. Experience the thrilling getaway—the brilliant speed—the increased power and smoothness of this great new car. Test, too, its remarkable ease of control—in starting, shifting, steering, and braking—comparable with that of the highest priced cars.

3 When you have defined your requirements on these points, and applied them to Oldsmobile, consider the importance of a third great factor—dependability. With all its important new features, the 1931 Oldsmobile gives you the same proved fundamentals which have won the praise of nearly a quarter of a million owners during the past three years.

4 Finally, consider the importance of price in relation to all these things. Then analyze Oldsmobile's value in terms of what you get for what you pay. You will find that the new Oldsmobile is not only finer than ever in quality, but that it is also lower in price. And lower price plus finer quality makes the new Oldsmobile's value doubly impressive.

EXAMINE OLDSMOBILE'S IMPORTANT NEW FEATURES IN BODY, ENGINE AND CHASSIS... THE SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION... A NEW QUIET SECOND GEAR... NEW DOWN-DRAFT CARBURETION... COORDINATED STARTER AND THROTTLE... A NEW CARBURETOR-SILENCER... NEW INSULATED FISHER BODIES... OPTIONAL UPHOLSTERY... A DEEPER, STURDIER FRAME... FIVE WIRE OR FIVE DEMOUNTABLE WOOD WHEELS... MORE DISTINCTIVE APPEARANCE... FINER ALL-ROUND PERFORMANCE

CONSIDER THE DELIVERED PRICE AS WELL AS THE LIST PRICE WHEN COMPARING AUTOMOBILE VALUES. WE WILL BE VERY GLAD TO DETAIL FOR YOU THE VERY REASONABLE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN OLDSMOBILE'S LIST AND DELIVERED PRICES.

Hoover Against Increased Taxes

"No Need For Increase," Says
Hoover, If Budget Proposals
Are Followed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 31.—Provided the next congress follows the budget proposals made by the administration, there will be no increase in taxes, President Hoover declared today after his first cabinet meeting since his return from the West Indies.

"I have canvassed the financial situation," he said, "and I can say that there will be no increase in taxes if the next congress imposes no increases upon the budget or other expenditure proposals which the administration will present. But congress to do this the people must cooperate to effectively discourage and postpone consideration of the demands of sectional and group interests."

British Memorialize Doherty Brothers

(International News Service)
WIMBLEDON, Eng., Mar. 31.—British lawn tennis is to have a memorial to the famous Doherty brothers, who revolutionized the game and were supreme in the early part of this century.

Handsome wrought-iron gates are being erected to their memory at the southeastern entrance of the All-England Club at Wimbledon, and one of the supporting concrete pillars will be a plaque suitably inscribed testifying to the feats of the two men who first made the name of lawn tennis a household word.

R. F. Doherty won the world championship at Wimbledon from 1897 to 1900, and H. L. Doherty was victor from 1902 to 1905. The brothers held the doubles championship for eight years in all. Both died in the prime of life.

Education Urged, Cure Of Trade Ills

(International News Service)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 31.—Education, raising the level of culture, is the best cure for business ills and depression in this country, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, president of the National Education Association, said here in a speech recently.

"Think in terms of people and money will come as an incidental," the educator declared. "The basis of business is human life and culture levels and when business joins in raising the standards then we will build a civilization on a foundation which a stock market cannot touch."

He illustrated this point by saying that if 15,000,000 tenement dwellers of the nation can be lifted from a seventh-grade standard to the level of a high school graduate, they will want the things that business has to sell.

Gallsbach Sets Up As Oberammergau Rival

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Mar. 31.—The village of Gallsbach has the ambition to become a serious competitor of Oberammergau. Gallsbach is already noted because it is the home of Michael Valentin Zeileis, much disputed "nature healer," who treats all his patients and all diseases with electric current. Lately, the healing business has been very poor. For this reason Zeileis plans to arrange a summer Passion Play on the Oberammergau model.

Preliminary negotiations between the mayor of Gallsbach and some prominent Vienna actors are going on already. Zeileis wants to play a part himself, and to engage some of the Oberammergau actors.

New Castle High Wins 20 Out Of 21 Games

SENIOR HIGH TEAM ENDS FLOOR SEASON; MAKES GOOD RECORD

Despite Ineligibility, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Develops Winning Team

HIGH SCHOOL QUINT
SCORES 629 POINTS

Francis Wainio Leads Team
Mates In Scoring With
Total Of 162
Points

Handicapped by the loss of four of his best proteges at the end of the first semester through ineligibility, Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh turned out a basketball combination this season that will go down in the history of the New Castle high school as one of the best ever to wear the colors of the local institution. The Senior high 1930-31 quintet concluded the hardwood campaign recently winning 20 out of 21 games.

The local passers ended activities on the floor last week by turning in a surprise victory over the strong St. Mary's Independent club by a 42-25 score. There is only one black mark that mars the splendid record compiled by the schoolboy cagers of this city.

After winning 19 straight floor conflicts and advancing to the semi-finals of W. P. I. A. L. tournament, defeat fell upon the Tin City five at this stage of the season when Duquesne high for the second consecutive year eliminated New Castle from the tourney and administered the local "proud boys" the only setback of the year. The score was 20-17.

Tough Break
Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, popular local mentor was hit with the toughest bit of luck just as his team began to function properly. With 12 straight triumphs and the end of the first semester arriving, Francis Wainio, Luther Rowe, John Grommes and later Regis McAuley became ineligible due to the eight semester ruling. This broke up the New Castle team temporarily and there were very few followers who would have wagered a "cent" on the local team to come through in the Section Three race with the loss of this quartette of ball heavies.

The local mentor started all over again building up a new club. Every game he tried something new. In the final game of the Sectional race which meant the title of this division of the W. P. I. A. L. with Butler high, the Tin City cagers played one of the best games of the season to win the title and thus entered the W. P. I. A. L. tournament as under dogs.

New Castle's first opponent in the tourney was Ambridge high one of the favored teams to burn up the tourney. This patched up New Castle group of fighters again turned the dope bucket upside down by eliminating Ambridge by a 25-24 count. Monessen, the second opponent to oppose the local quintet in the W. P. I. A. L. cup fight also fell by the wayside by a 16-15 score. By now the critics began to give the Lawrence County team a bit of credit for their showing in the tourney.

Then Came Defeat
Having advanced to the semi-finals, Duquesne was the next combination to meet New Castle. Although the Red and Black clad boys played one of the best games of the season they were defeated by the Steelers by a 20-17 score. There are many fans who still believe the best team did not win. Defeat came upon the Bridenbaugh boys in the final minutes of play when Andy Lasky, scintillating pivot man was ruled out of the contest on four personal fouls.

To conclude the season Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner booked the St. Mary's team in the finale of 1931 to meet the high school boys. Like in other games the dopesters figured the much older and more experienced team would win. But again the Senior high boys turned the tables. The triumph over the St. Mary's team was the 20th of the season. In two years the New Castle team has been defeated twice, both times by Duquesne.

The schedule arranged by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner was a rather hard one. In Section Three with the exception of Butler high the competitors were not very keen. It became somewhat keep near the end of the race with the loss of the four cagers.

In 13 tilts this lanky and blond clever passer tallied 61 field goals and 40 out of a possible 57 fouls for a total of 162 points. His playing in the past two years on the New Castle team has won for him the name of one of the best cagers ever to wear the colors of the high school.

He proved a menace to every team. No matter who was guarding him he always managed to score. He scored in every game he played. Nick Uram, captain and guard was second with a total of 97 points. Uram proved a tower of strength on the five. His defensive and offensive power stood out. Andy Lasky center was third with a total of 83 points followed by John Uram who accounted 82 points.

Luther Rowe another cager who is ranked as accomplished basketball player follows the list with 69 points. James Shaffer, Regis McAuley, John Grommes, and Lester Reiber a new recruit follow down the list. In 21 games, New Castle came through with 629 points to 370 for their opponents.

From the charity line the local team showed up fairly well making good 153 out of 257 foul tries. New Castle's average per game was close to 30 points with the opponents' average about 17 and a fraction points per game.

The 1930-31 team deserves much credit for its showing especially during the latter half of the schedule when it advanced to the semi-final round of the W. P. I. A. L. title chase. The final event for the quintet, the biggest of the season comes on Monday, April 6 when the players with their girl friends and honored guests will enjoy the annual basketball banquet tendered every team at the end of the season. The banquet will take place in the cafeteria of the George Washington Junior high school.

The scores of games played during the 1930-31 season follow:

RIGHT TO JAW
DROPS STANTON

Joe Sekyra of Dayton was awarded a technical knockout over Gene Stanton of Cleveland in the second of a scheduled 10-round bout last night at the Castle bowl. A right to the jaw put Stanton down. He got up at the count of three, staggered against the ropes and Referee Red Robinson terminated the bout five seconds before the round ended.

The knockout came after Sekyra had jabbed Stanton and worked him near Gene's corner. A right to the jaw flew with the precision of a bullet. The Cleveland heavyweight fell heavily and for two seconds apparently was "out". He leaped from the floor and plunged against the ropes.

As Sekyra advanced across the ring the referee stepped to Stanton and grasped him. At the same time he waved Sekyra back to his corner, which was a signal that he had won the fight. When Robinson acted he probably believed Stanton was in no condition to be struck again.

The semi-final didn't go a round and Fritz Otto lost the fight, being disqualified for going down without being struck. According to the rules the referee was right as no boxer is allowed to go down without being hit but the fans did not like the action, just though it was.

Otto fought Pat Smith of Akron, 1773-4. Otto weighed 181. When the bell sounded they started driving pilehammer blows to the head. Otto caught Smith a hard right and Pat came back with a terrific clip to Otto's chin.

Pat piled into the German heavyweight and the big boy sat down and the referee took him by the arm and disqualified Otto. After the bout his purse was held up by the commission. In order to get his purse Otto will have to appear before Commissioner Boyle and explain his action.

Tommy Arnold, New Castle, 142, and Eddie Kaufman, Cleveland, 140, fought a spectacular four-round bout. Arnold won the decision. Kaufman was carried to his corner at the end of the first round. He had been knocked down by a left to the jaw.

In the second Arnold had Kaufman down for a count of eight but he weathered the storm. Kaufman shifted southpaw in the third which bothered Arnold. Eddie drew in this round and took the fourth but Arnold's big lead in the first two rounds won him the award.

Jackie Ward, Cleveland, 126½, and Al Gruver, Akron, 127, fought a pretty fight for four rounds and the decision was called a draw. They were busy every second. Ward was the aggressor but Gruver proved a good counter puncher. The fans liked the fight very much.

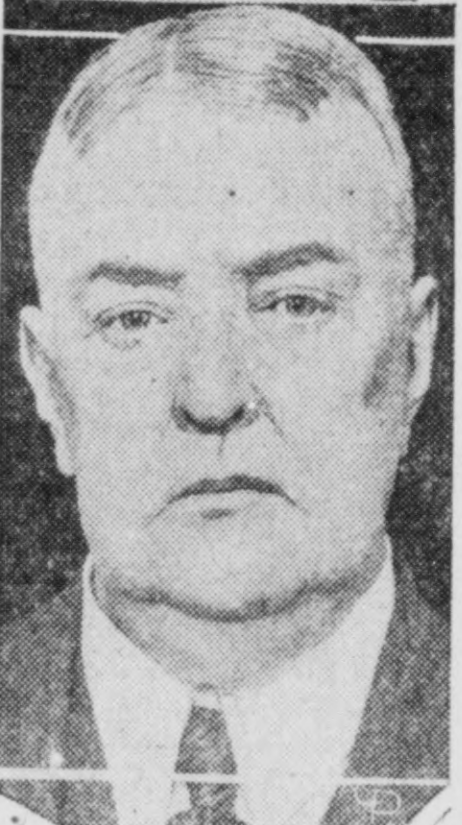

The opening four-round battle was called a draw and was fought by Homer Gray, 165, and Merle Gibson, 160, of this city. They landed healthy swings and were busy every second. For their first fight they drew the fans plenty of action.

The boxing commission was represented by Deputies Kane and Gallagher, the former of Aliquippa and the latter of McKeesport. Red Robinson was the third man. Thomas Jones and Chauncey Davis were the judges. Peter Capitola timekeeper and Charles Walther was the announcer.

After the fight Stanton said it was the second time he had a knock-out registered against him during his career. Frankie Simms turned in the first. Gene has fought some of the best of the younger crop of heavies. Sekyra has fought all the leading heavyweights in the country.

TEMPLE ISRAELS WIN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

First Time In History Of Temple—Gerson Team Has Won Title

Defeat Central Christians 18 To 16 In Fast Game—Awarded Trophy

The Temple Israel team also known as the Gerson Jewelers, waited a long time for a championship and finally got their reward last night when they defeated the Central Christians 18 to 16 in a sizzling hot "A" league game to win the title. Following the game Henry MacNichols, physical director of the "Y" presented the Temples with a handsome loving cup signifying their great achievement.

In the first game of the series the Temples nosed out the Christians by a lone-point, they made it a two-point victory last night. The game was witnessed by a large crowd.

Temples Take Lead
At the opening whistle the Temples took the lead and were never headed afterwards. The score at the end of the first-half was 10 to 2 in favor of the Temples. The Christians were having a hard time to penetrate the Temple defense put up by Plant and H. Levine. The Christians were held scoreless from the field for the first-half.

In the third quarter the Temples kept plugging away and finally had a 14 to 6 lead at the end of the quarter. It was in the fourth and final period that the Christians became dangerous and started to drop them in from the middle of the court. It was not long until the score stood at 14 to 13 in favor of the Temples with the game nearly over. Coach Ray Nolte pulled the master stroke when he reinstituted Rogovin back to the forward berth held by Sae. Levin and the sandy-haired Temple forward came through with two field goals that put the game on ice for the Temples. The Christians tried desperately to overtake the Jewish boys but they were unsuccessful. The Temples on the foul line were very good caging eight out of thirteen. The Christians had eight out of eighteen.

Rogovin Is Star
Manager Harry Davids accented the handsome loving cup from MacNichols and it will be placed in the Trophy case at the Baptist Israel Synagogue. This was the twelfth straight victory in the Church league for the Temples or Gersons, and also their seventh straight victory.

Rogovin, Plant and J. Solomon were the stars of the game for the Church League champions, while for the Christians the work of Nolan, Shik and A. Reimer featured.

Lutherans Win
In the first game to the bill the Finnish Lutherans won the second half title in the "B" league by downing the First Baptist team 27 to 11 in a lopsided victory. The Lutherans shoved into the lead at the very outset of the game and held the lead at all times. The score at the half was 10 to 3 in favor of the Lutherans. The Baptists had but one field goal that by Eakin in the first half. Ruba was the big gun for the Finnish boys with three buckets. In the second half the Lutherans coasted along with a safe lead and Francis Wainio entered the game long enough to cage three field goals. Soyring and Ruba had 3 other points for the Lutherans in the final half of the game.

The Lutherans won the first game of the series, the Baptists won the second, and then the Finnish boys came through last night to annex the title for the second-half. The same two teams will now stage a three-game series for the "B" league championship.

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

TWO OUT OF THREE GRADUATE TO A PACKARD

Did you know that two-thirds of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight turn in lower-priced cars? Think of it—two out of every three of our Standard Eight sales are made to people none of whom ever before owned a Packard!

Of course Packard has a long-established clientele. But repeat order business is to be expected. The surprising fact is that so many owners of lower-priced cars are turning to Packard transportation. The reason is that they have found it costs no more.

Give us the opportunity and no doubt we can show you that you, too, are paying Packard costs while not enjoying Packard ownership. Why not phone, or drop in to see us?

Here is what we can show you with actual figures: That it costs no more to maintain and operate the Packard than any other car of like size and power, no matter what its first price. And that depreciation amounts to no more when you keep the Packard longer, as most Packard owners do.

Packard cars are built for long life and complete reliability. This applies to the Packard Standard Eight, priced at the factory from $2385 to $2885, no less than to the larger, heavier Packard DeLuxe Eight, factory priced at from $3490 to $4285, and the Individual Custom Creations ranging up beyond $10,000.

Why not, then, take the first step toward Packard ownership—get in touch with us?

Stanley Poreda Defeats Risko

Cleveland Baker Boy Pounded From Pillar To Post In New York

NEW SENSATION IS UNCOVERED

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—They were talking today about a possible new Jack Dempsey, another Max Schmeling. He is Stanley Poreda, a young New Jersey heavyweight, who punched all the rubber out of Johnny Risko of Cleveland last night in ten rounds at Madison Square Garden.

New York critics never agree on anything and none of them was expected to get excited over the fact that Poreda slammed down the declassé Risko but some of them claimed they saw more than mere promise in the way in which the young winner boxed. If Poreda is not a coming world's heavyweight champion, it was figured he at least might be classed in the top crust of heavies.

Has Fine Left
Making his so-called debut here against a so-called first rate fighter the New Jersey man exhibited one of the finest lefts paraded by any of the present crop of heavyweights and used it as a piston to constantly wave away the wildly rushing midwesterner. At the end of the sixth round, Poreda had a lead at least as noticeable as a missing collar button.

And in addition to his beautiful boxing, the Jersey youth conducted himself like a veteran, calmly wearing about, punching as he went. Risko, slumping desperately to make himself out as fierce as in the old days, appeared the more un-schooled.

Six rounds were credited to Poreda, two to Risko and two even. In New York even referees must be in style and different so Kid McPartland voted for Risko, permitting the two judges to assume undue importance as they nominated Poreda.

Down in Dixie Base Ball Notes

By Central Press
Success of the Brooklyn five-game sojourn in Cuba, the island oasis, may make that spot a general port of call for major league clubs during future training seasons. The Robins played to 45,000 paid admissions during their series in Havana this spring.

Forty-five thousand admissions are an enormous number for a set of five exhibition games during the spring or at any time.

The New York Yankees are understood to be planning a trip to Cuba for next spring in company with the Robins. The invasion of the two Gotham clubs will take place next March and will call for a series between the teams.

If 45,000 fans cram the Havana ball yard to view the Brooklyn Buffaloes it isn't hard to figure that literally droves of 'em would come out to see Senor Bambino Ruth do his stuff.

Besides the gratifying number of customers, the Brooklyn was astonished at the excellent weather conditions prevailing on the isle. Such old-timers as Jack Quinn, the Methuselah of moundsmen; Adolfo Luque and Joe Shaute, the left-handed ex-Indian liked the weather.

Following a spring of wet, bad weather in Florida, many of the clubs which trained this spring in the Grapefruit state have been wondering whether a trip to Cuba wouldn't pay dividends.

The feature of the Robin Havana trip that has interested major league club treasurers most is that the Brooklyn team played to such large houses with only make-shift games, contests between two Brooklyn nines, offered. Inter-league clashes, therefore, should bring handsome dividends in Cuba.

MEET THE MANAGER

BY JACK SORDS

Bill McKelvie, the man who gets fired for being successful, need have little worries about his job this year. Bill is bossing the Boston Braves again and the Bean Eaters show few signs of becoming potential pennant winners.
McKelvie's first pennant winner was the Pittsburgh club which clicked under his management in 1925. The next season he was out of a job but not for long. In 1928 Bill assumed the reins of the St. Louis Cardinals and piloted that club to a flag. He was shipped down the river to Rochester the following season.
Yanked back in the closing days of the 1929 race to replace Billy

Southworth at the helm of the Red Bird machine, McKelvie quit and announced his retirement from baseball. He planned to enter politics. However, the Boston Braves asked him to guide their destiny, so Bill is back in harness once more.
McKelvie, born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., August 7, 1887. He played with various minor league clubs, Pittsburgh and the New York Americans until 1914 when he jumped to the Indianapolis Federal league team.
Following the surrender of the Federal league, McKelvie drifted to the St. Louis Americans, the New York Nationals, Cincinnati and then Pittsburgh again.

Boston Red Sox Improved Team

Boston Sox Have Established Great Record In Spring Training

PIRATES-ATHLETICS ARE OFF FORM

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—The amazing record of the Boston Red Sox, the collapse of the Pittsburgh Pirates against the Cubs and Detroit, and the inability of the World's Champion Philadelphia Athletics to break even against major league opposition are the features of the exhibition season to date.

The feat of the Red Sox in winning nine of their ten games, even though minor league clubs furnished the opposition in each contest, has convinced some optimistic Boston fans that Shano Collins is going to perform the miracle of lifting the Beaneaters out of the American League cellar this season. We think the Sox will be lucky if they win nine American League games by the middle of May, but the Hub hopefuls are going right ahead, gathering their posies while they may, even though the morrow brings disillusionment.

Pirates Look Bad
The Pirates took their fifth straight beating from the Cubs yesterday and have won only two of their ten games with big league opponents. Unless all signs fail, Jewel Ens and his crew are going to be left at the post again when the National League derby gets under way two weeks from today.

The Athletics, like the Pirates, have been hampered by poor pitching. The Mackmen have managed to win but six of their thirteen games with other major league outfits.

The other thirteen teams have been playing at just about their 1930 speed.

In interleague contests the American League clubs have the edge. Having won nineteen of their thirty-six games with National League teams.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Prices On An Upward Trend

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—After starting the day from 1 to 4 points higher, the active Industrial and Utility stocks pushed ahead aggressively this morning for the best rally in nearly two weeks. Before giving up the fight, the bears hammered the Oil stocks, driving Standard of New Jersey below 42 for a loss of nearly a point and the other leading standards and independents fractionally lower. A few of the Rails were also under pressure, Southern Railway falling 3 points to 46.

Brilliant recoveries were scored by the Steel, Gas Light, Motor and other market leaders. United States Steel moved up 2 1/2 points to 142 1/2. Auburn, the star performer in the Motor group, raced up nearly 10 points to 23 1/2 and General Motors topped 43 for a gain of more than 1 point. Consolidated Gas advanced nearly 3 points to 102 1/2. American and Foreign Power was also a strong spot in the Utilities advancing 2 points to 42 1/2.

A wide break in General Asphalt, followed the announcement from London that the British courts had reversed the ruling of the lower court awarding this company royalties against the Royal Dutch interest in Venezuelan Oil production. Opening 4 1/2 points lower, General Asphalt dipped to 30 for a loss of 1 1/2 before showing any signs of recovery Royal Dutch moved up a point to 33.

With the possible exception of the Rails, all sections of the market were inclined slightly higher in the second hour. Radio rallied a point to 23. American Smelting was up 2 1/2 at 47 1/2; Worthington Pump up 2 1/2; Westinghouse up 2 1/2; Bethlehem Steel up 1 1/2. The Telephone, Amusement and Electrical Manufacturing stocks were in good form in the period. Trading slowed down near the noon period, with prices near the top of the move. Grain and Cotton markets were steady and call money unchanged at 1 1/2 per Cent.

Guilty Conscience

After murdering O. J. White, 64, and robbing him, Ollie Greenhaw (above), Little Rock, Ark., farmer, was betrayed by his own conscience. He was called upon to help search for the body, dig a grave and, in addition, sit on the coroner's jury. A sheriff, noticing Greenhaw's nervousness, arrested him on suspicion. Three days later he confessed.

May Have Set New Record

Elinor Smith, noted aviatrix, in her attempt to create a new record, came to a crack-up landing near Mitchell Field, L. I. She lost consciousness at an altitude of 25,000 feet, but managed to regain control of her machine and averted what might have been a tragedy. Friends righted the plane as shown above, while Elinor (inset) sobbed at her failure to establish a new record, but unofficial examination of the barograph indicated she may have beaten Ruth Nichols' mark.

Many Blouses Seen In Spring Fashion Shows

BY ALICE LANGELIER, International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Mar. 31.—Blouses were never more beautiful than those to be seen in spring and summer collections in Paris. They are here in abundance although sometimes they are no more than half-blouses forming gilets, revived especially for both morning and afternoon tailors.

At Paul Poirer's blouses are sleeveless covering the hips and showing a series of new darts taken round the garment where they are belted and bloused very definitely.

Mystery Attends Suicide Of Woman

Conflicting Testimony Given
At Inquest Into Death
Of Former Actress

ACCIDENT THEORY ALSO ADVANCED

(International News Service)
NICE, France, Mar. 31.—Mystified by conflicting testimony after an inquest into the death of Mrs. David Townsend, American wife of an Australian millionaire and ex-Pollies star known as Peggy Davis, police today returned a verdict officially ascribing the tragedy to "suicide or accident."

The chief of police at Laturbie, who has charge of the investigation of the former Ziegfeld star's death, stated that a farewell note found beside her body at the foot of "suicide" cliff undoubtedly was written Saturday night, a short time before the car hurtled over the precipice. He pointed out, however, that its contents did not specifically indicate intention to commit suicide on the part of the writer, and therefore decided on a "suicide or accident" verdict.
